High up in the tree, lives a monkey called Peter,

He's very friendly, and he would like to meet you.

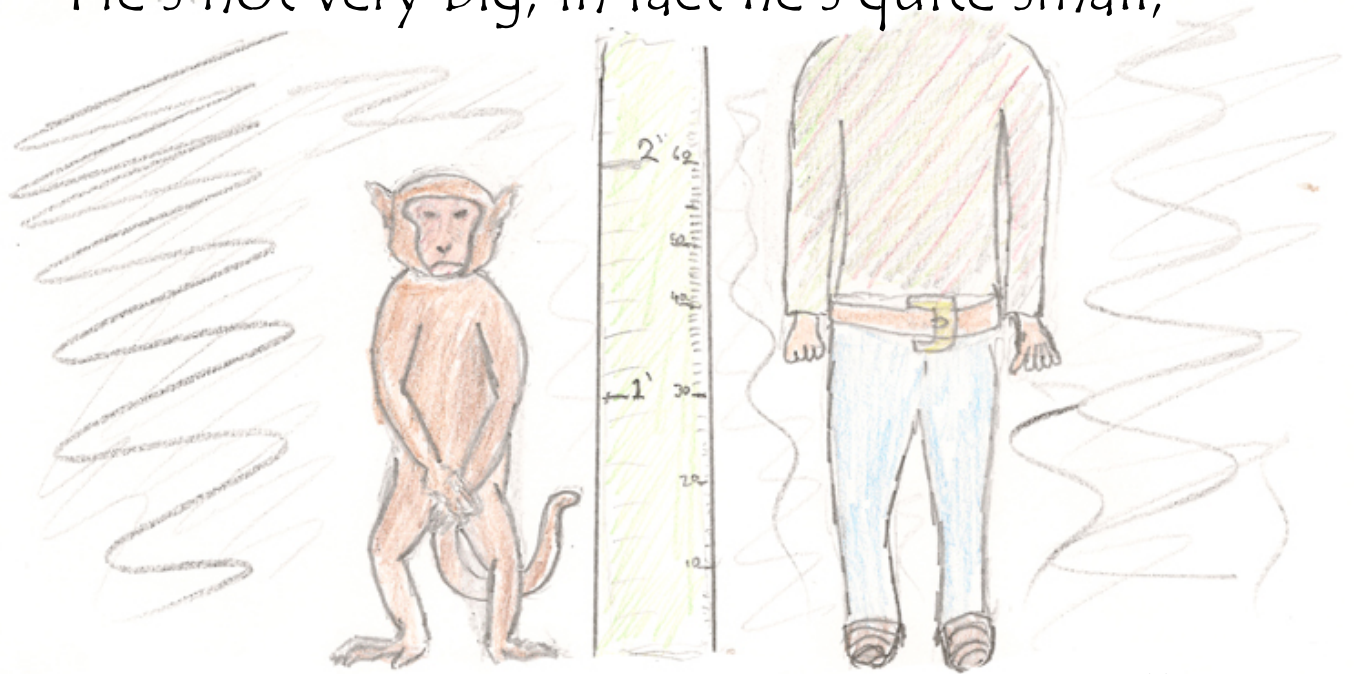

He loves bananas, and I know you do too,

He never just haves one, he'll often have two.

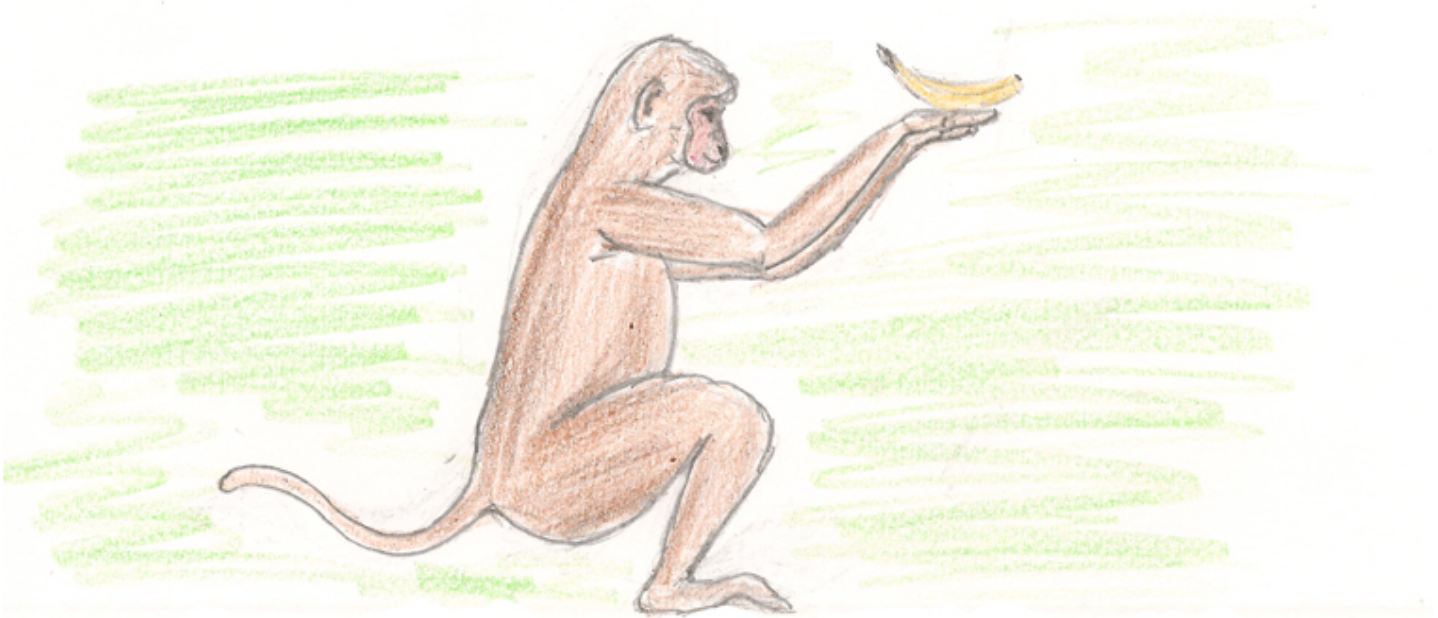

He's not very big, in fact he's quite small,

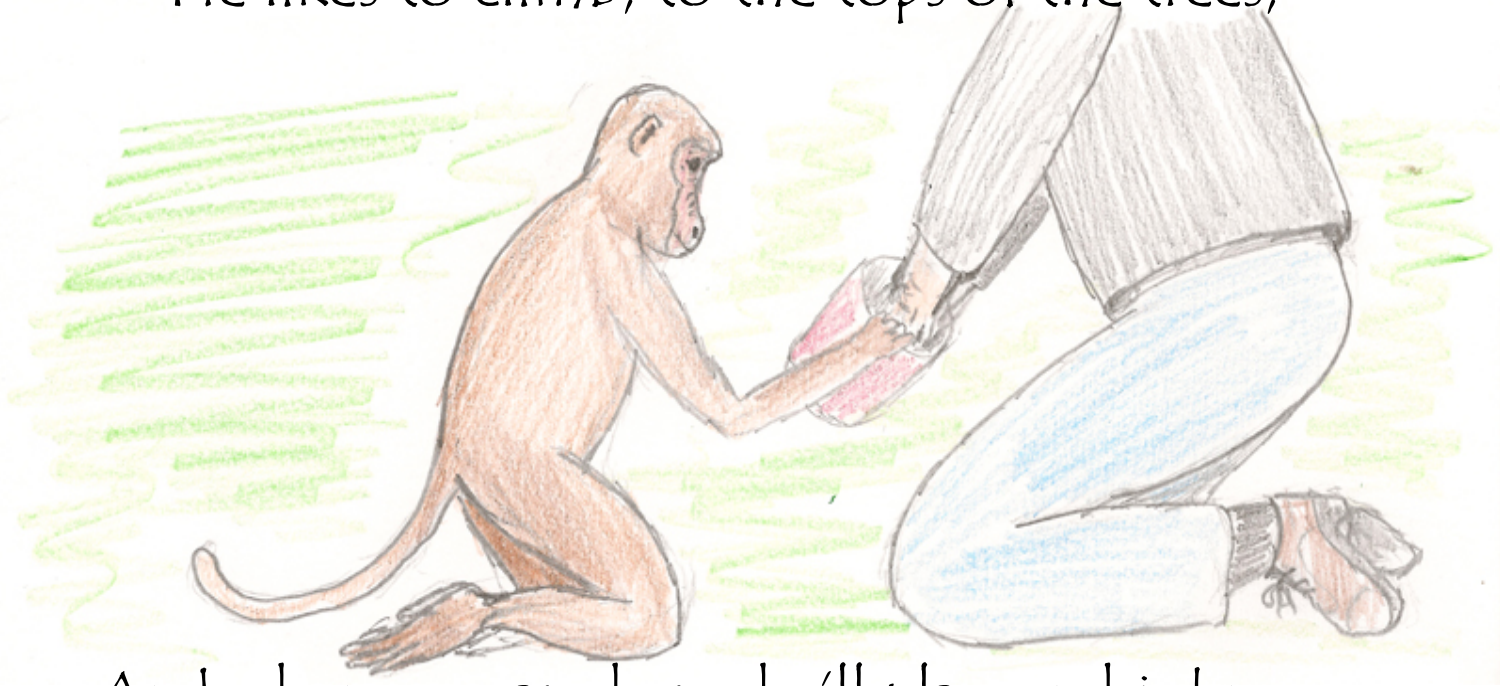

When you stand beside him, against a wall.

When you're around, he does love sharing.

Because he knows, it's nice to be caring.

He likes to climb, to the tops of the trees,

And when you are here, he'll play on his knees.

He plays with his toys, especially his bell,

If you ask nicely, he'll let you play as well.

He has a cheeky red face, but he's not a Baboon,

Because they don't like playing, with a balloon.

He likes to take long walks in the park,

But you'll never find him out after dark.

He tries to keep his messy room clean,

But his bedroom floor hasn't been seen.

It is time for his bed, so sleep well Peter,

Now you sleep too,
and your dreams may be sweeter.
